SMOOT TAX SYSTEM

Such Plan Necessary to Get Country Out of Slough, He Declares.

Chief among the problems that confront the civilized nations of the world to-day is that of reducing the cost of government with a view toward a consequent reduction of taxation. This cannot be accomplished, however, until trained men of affairs refuse to hold themselves longer aloof but take an active, vigorous interest in governmental activities.

This was the text of a message delivered by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler yesterday at the annual meeting of the New York Board of Trade and Transportation on the occasion of the opening of the organization's new headquarters at 4! Park Row.

Dr. Butler told his audience that the thing that impressed him most during his recent trip abroad was the similarity of the problems that presented themselves to the various Governments of Europe. But the problem of the reduction of the cost of government, he said, was the most pressing of all. He was enthusiastically applauded when, dealing with that question as it affected the United States, he expressed rogret that the Government had not seen fit to write into the tax bill the recommendations of Senator Smoot of Utah for the abolition of the countless obnoxious taxes now imposed and the substitution therefor of six fundamental Federal taxes, the revenue from which, Senator Smoot declares, would be sufficient for governmental purposes. "Until we take some such action." Dr. Butler said, "we are not going to get out of the slough of despond. For days during the debate on the tax bill the pages of the Congressional Record were filled with discussions of chewing gum and soft drinks to the exclusion of the more vital aspects. Think of that!"

Every day's delay in turnover costs American business $11,500,000

At nine centers of the city's trade is a special service to help eliminate delays that waste your working capital

COMMODITIES produced in this country in Woolworth Building—covering in person every important center in Greater New York. (Figures for 1920). Between producer and consumer this tremendous sum turns over many times. Interest on it at 6 per cent is more than $11,500,000 for a single day. And yet many a business concern is wasting from five to thirty days every time it turns over its working capital.

Delays in shipments, delays in collections, delays all along the line of production and distribution-these waste capital as much as leaving stock inactive on the shelves.

Preeminently commercial for seventy years, the Irving National Bank has faced the problem of speeding up commercial transactions as one of the big problems of modern business.

The Irving's special services designed to speed up the turnover of capital

The Irving has built up a special Bill-of-Lading Department. This Department is organized to trace railroad shipments, to locate freight cars on arrival at terminals, to eliminate every sort of delay in releasing capital.

Every morning 40 messengers leave the Main Office of the Irving in the
